

Longhorn Skulls

Price: $345

This is the skull and horns from Unsparty Foosebowl. She was a SuperBowl granddaughter. She has left Triple M Ranch before her time, now she's in Longhorn heaven. Here's a 49 7/8" skull and horns to hang in your Game Room above the Foosebowl Table.

Price: $495

These are from one of Triple M Longhorns steers. He has a 56 7/8" lateral set of horns. His grazing days are long gone but he can hang on your wall forever.

Longhorn Skulls

Price: $375

This young cow served the Old Schoolhouse Restaurant well with many Texas Longhorn burgers. The black tipped horns with the unusual pattern sure would look good on your wall. 45" tip to tip.

Price: $550

This Ranch Steer's days of showing off his pretty black tipped horns are over. But you can certainly show him off on your wall for just $550. 59.5" tip to tip.

Longhorn Skulls

Price: $1200

Foosebowl was a celebrity cow. She made her fame on Fox & Friends when Larry Gatlan presented her to Gretchen Carlson. Unfortunately we lost her unexpectedly in 2014. Her horns are 73" tip to tip with a beautiful Texas Twist and color equally as beautiful.

Price: $650

Sequoia Red was out of my embryo cow, Shadow Sequoia. She put a lot of nice calves on the ground and when they matured their mother's horns came through. 67.5" tip to tip.

Longhorn Skulls

Price: $795

Unsparty was a favorite herd sire with all Triple M Ranch Hands. He was a lumbering giant who tipped the scale at over a ton. He'd let you walk right up to him and he loved getting his back scratched. Unfortunately in his last year with the cows he sustained a spinal injury and we had to put him down. The massive circumference and pretty black tips make it a prize for your wall. 58.25" tip to tip.

Price: $475

This cow's luck ran out when the hamburger got low. But with any luck these pretty black tipped horns will look good on your wall. 52" tip to tip.
